

Shorter Styles

nipped these celebs' long locks show Us how to copy their sexy new cuts

Now

Then

For lightweight volume, spritz on Kenra Root Lifting Spray before blow-drying. ($12, kenra.com)

KRISTIN CAVALLARI

- The cut "It's a fresh take on a classic A-line bob — shorter in the back and longer in the front," explains L.A. hair pro Jonathan Hanousek, who cut 10 inches off the star's length to create her layered, chin-grazing style.
- How to style Spritz roots with a volumizing tonic and blow-dry straight with a medium round brush. "The extra height on top makes the cut a little more playful," Hanousek tells Us.

Now

Then

To smooth strands, Babai recommends Kérastase Oléo-Relax serum. ($29, 877-748-8357)

SANDRA BULLOCK

- The cut "This long A-line bob is the perfect shape and length because it complements Sandra's [square] jaw line and elongates her neck," says L.A. stylist David Babai, who often styles (but did not cut) the star's hair.
- How to style Apply a straightening serum through damp strands and blow-dry hair with a large round brush, bending ends in toward the face to give locks extra movement.

Now

Then

NICOLE & KEITH'S WEDDING!

US WEEKLY

JEN & VINCE
The Truth Behind the Rumors

KEVIN'S Last Chance

A Christian life coach helps Britney forgive as she struggles to save her family

DID SHE TELL THE TRUTH ON TV?

