

DAILY BEAUTY™

POWERED BY NEWBEAUTY® MAGAZINE

Welcome Guest

GET DAILY BEAUTY

Enter your email

FACE

BODY

SKIN

HAIR

SPA

SMILE

ANTI-AGING

JORGE L. MENENDEZ,
MD, FACS
Plastic Surgeon
San Antonio, TX
New York, NY

FIND A LOCAL BEAUTY EXPERT

Select a Procedure

Zip Code

FIND ▶

← Back

View Larger

Plump and polish your lifeless locks

Posted Thursday, July 23, 2009

Usually, when you want both volume and shine, they must be procured from two different bottles. But this styling standard can backfire, with piled-on products weighing hair down and making it dull—the exact opposite of what you want.

Great news for those of us with limp and lackluster locks: both benefits have been incorporated into Kenra Platinum Thickening Glaze. This clever new concoction features a virtual salad of body builders and shine-enhancers—like goji berry, lemongrass, sunflower and green tea—which make up their Bodifying Complex. In addition to adding radiance and fullness, the lightweight formula fortifies and protects with a UV-filtering duo and oodles of antioxidants.

Thickening Glaze will quickly become a pivotal part of your blow-drying strategy, thanks to its thermally protective powers and absolutely easy-to-achieve results.

Tags: antioxidants, blow dry, fine hair, goji berry, green tea, Kenra, lemongrass, product, styling, sunflower, Thickening Glaze, volume

View Comments \(0\) | Send | ShareThis | Save | BUY IT